

Motivation: region-aware and calibrated evidence for sequence-only IDR prediction

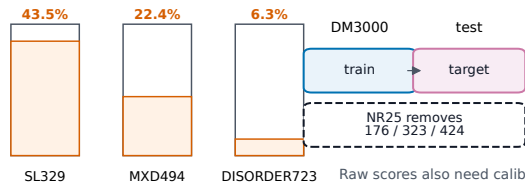

(a) Biological target is regionally heterogeneous

Aggregate residue metrics can hide different errors at termini, internal regions, boundaries and low-prevalence test sets.

(b) Benchmark claims need explicit controls

Test disorder fraction

Raw scores also need calibration before probability interpretation.

(c) This project: constrained input, region-aware model, separated evidence

